

Courageous Captain Carlsen Kept Pictures Of Family At His Side And Prayed To God During Heroic Struggle To Save Flying Enterprise From Angry Sea

Falmouth, Eng., Jan. 11 (AP)—Safe ashore, Capt. Kurt Carlsen told the story today of his monumental fight with the raging Atlantic—a two weeks battle against wind, waves and cold.

He told a cheering crowd of thousands: "I deeply regret that I was not in position to bring The Enterprise back with me."

From the deck of the rescue tug Turnbull he watched the death throes of the 6,711-ton Flying Enterprise yesterday, minutes after he leaped into the water from the dying freighter. She went down in 40 fathoms (250 feet) of water, 37 miles off this fishing port, after a thrashing, titanic battle with the sea.

"That really hurt me, quite a lot," Carlsen said.

It was that "last gale" which struck the stout ship its death blow, the courageous, 37-year-old skipper told a packed news conference.

"The last few days' gale was too much," he said. "There were high seas going and they were too much."

His worst moment in the long ordeal, he said, "was the moment that the Flying Enterprise disappeared."

He obviously loved his ship.

"I commanded that ship for three years and made 44 crossings of the Atlantic. She was a very well built ship and extremely solid," he said.

He will go back to sea, he said. And it may be aboard another Flying Enterprise. The Isbrandtsen Line, owners of the ship, referring proudly to the heroic master, has announced that he can have a new command whenever he wants it and that likely there will be a new Flying Enterprise for him one day.

Carlsen seemed calm as he described his ordeal, a solitary battle for a week after he ordered his crew of 40 and 10 passengers to abandon ship on December 29, four days after the Christmas hurricane hit him. He managed to get four to six hours sleep a night, sleeping "half on the port wall and half on the floor" of the crazily tilted vessel.

It was a hungry affair for him for a while.

"I found down in the storeroom a big pound cake with a big hole in it, and I put my arm through it and brought it up," he said.

He lived on the pound cake and water for several days. Later he found some wine and beer aboard. Still later, the U. S. destroyer Willard Keith got hot coffee and food to him. By night, he read by the light of a flickering candle. His book was "The Seaman and the Law."

Things brightened for him after a week of lonely battle, when the salvage tug Turnbull, coming close by, put aboard First Mate Kenneth Dancy, 27.

What did they talk about on those long, eerie nights?

"Well, we talked about this press business," Carlsen replied. "To be frank, we were both scared of it."

He became even more scared, he admitted, when the fame of his heroic stand spread and he realized there might be quite a fuss about him ashore.

When the last moments of the Flying Enterprise arrived, he and Dancy jumped together into the sea and swam hand in hand toward the Turnbull. They clambered up a rope ladder a few minutes later.

Carlsen stepped onto the Prince of Wales pier in Falmouth today, wearing an oversized black raincoat he borrowed from one of his rescuers, at 10:08 a.m. (5:05 a.m. EST).

"I just cannot find words enough to express my gratitude to you," he told the crowd.

Honor upon honor was thrust upon the skipper. Lloyds of London, the insurance underwriters, gave him a medal. King Frederick of Denmark — Carlsen is a Danish-born naturalized American — sent a telegram of congratulations. The U. S. Coast Guard announced plans for a formal commendation.

Carlsen said he kept pictures of his wife and two children by his side and prayed to God during his two-week fight to bring the damaged vessel into port.

Carlsen came ashore at the Cornish fishing town from the tug which tried for six days to get his storm-battered, heeled-over freighter into port and then had to pluck him from the Atlantic just before she sank.

The fishing folk of Cornwall, who for generations have known the sea and respected and feared its might, gave him a conqueror's welcome.

At the top of the steps were his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. Martin Carlsen, who flew from Denmark to greet their hero son when it looked like he and his ship might be towed in. With them was Falmouth's Mayor T. L. Morris.

Carlsen was accompanied ashore by Kenneth Dancy, mate of the tug Turnbull, who shared the skipper's fight to save the Flying Enterprise during the last six days the 6,711-ton freighter was afloat.

Today Dancy stood beside Carlsen on the platform and kept his arm around the little skipper.

Dan Parker, captain of the Turnbull, accompanied them ashore. His tug had fastened a tow line on the Flying Enterprise 300 miles out to sea and dragged the hulk, tilted far over on her side, within 57 miles of Falmouth before a storm broke the steel tow cable and set the freighter adrift.

The Turnbull stood by to the last and fished Carlsen and Dancy from the sea when they leaped off the ship just 38 minutes before she went to the bottom.

Carlsen praised Parker and his tugboat crew as men who "lived up to the traditions of a great seafaring nation."

Royal Navy planes zoomed a salute over the harbor and a naval helicopter skimmed at low level across the town.

Someone in the crowd shouted to ask Carlsen what he was going to do next.

"I'm going to sleep," he answered, with a bit of hesitation.

The Flying Enterprise carried the following cargo: Some steel was loaded with carpets; 65 bird cages; 1,271 tons of pig iron; 890 tons of African coffee; 55 tons of graphite; 82 tons of bone meal; 800 bales of peat moss; five tons of columbite ore; 260 bags of grass seed; 25 barrels of onions; some barrels of aluminum chloride; some furniture; a number of bales of jute bagging, and a number of bales of animal hair from India.

Townships' Figures

There were 96 male deaths and 58 female deaths in Gettysburg during 1951 as compared to 77 male deaths and 66 female deaths in the borough in 1950.

Allies Demand Explanation Of Red Denial Of Plan To Build Airfields During An Armistice

Seoul, Korea, Jan. 11 (AP)—Red jets flashed south almost to Parallel 38 today—and paid for their audacity with loss of four MIG-15s.

They were shot down, and a fifth was damaged, in five blazing battles with American jets.

The air war flamed within 30 miles of the Panmunjom truce site. One fight was nearly 180 miles from the Yalu river boundary between Korea and Manchuria. This is far south of MIG alley where the jets usually fight.

Down 11 Jets In Week

The new outbreak of air war, after jets were snowbound yesterday, raised the Allied bag for the week to 11 jets shot down and 13 damaged.

One jet destroyed today was hit over Sariwon, 150 miles southeast of the Yalu. No MIG had been bagged so far south before.

One MIG was downed in the same battle by America's top ace—Col. Francis S. Gabreski, of Oil City, Pa., 51st Fighter-Interceptor Wing commander. It was his fourth MIG and his 32nd plane in two wars.

This battle, between 22 Sabre jets and 60 very aggressive Russian-type MIGs, raged for 35 minutes over a 75-mile area. It was as long as any jet battle recorded.

All of the day's kills were made by F-86 Sabre jets.

Munsan, Korea, Jan. 11 (P)—Allied truce negotiators handed the Reds a virtual ultimatum today. They demanded an explanation of an alleged contradiction in the Communists' announced stand on construction of airfields during an armistice.

Maj. Gen. Howard M. Turner said negotiations for supervising a Korean truce could not continue until the Reds explain the apparent discrepancy.

Turner said the Reds last month announced they planned to build and repair airfields while a truce was in force, but denied yesterday that this was their intention.

Chinese Maj. Gen. Hsieh Fang insisted that the Communist position never has changed and declared:

34 Minute Session

"You will never get a satisfactory answer to your unreasonable demands."

The truce subcommittee met for only 34 minutes. The subcommittee on prisoner exchange adjourned after four hours and 30 minutes. Both will meet again at 11 a.m. Saturday (9 p.m. EST Friday) in Panmunjom.

Rear Adm. R. E. Libby told newsmen that in the prisoner subcommittee "we are still trying to get them to explain their sudden shift on the doctrine of free choice—how they justify it and then repudiate it."

Thursday Libby accused the Communists of insisting on forced repatriation of war prisoners after the Reds said thousands of South Koreans had joined the Red armies of their own free will following capture.

Seek Individual Freedom

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckolls, official U.N. spokesman, said "the basic question we are trying to decide is the question of freedom for the individual versus slavery for the individual."

In the truce supervision session Turner quoted the senior Communist delegate, North Korean Lt. Gen. Nam Il, as saying Dec. 2:

"I can assure Admiral Joy that the Korean people will certainly reconstruct and reinforce their airfields during the period of military armistice so as to prevent the possibility of any further wanton bombing by your side and to safeguard the security of their armed forces."

On the other hand, Turner said, "Yesterday as well as on many previous occasions you stated, General Hsieh, that our assertion that you intend to increase your military capabilities by building airfields was a misrepresentation and a slander."

"Critical Stage"

"Which statement are we to believe?"

"There is no contradiction," Hsieh replied. "Installation of facilities is an internal affair that your side has no right to look into."

"You have not answered my question," Turner said angrily. "If you have nothing more I suggest we reconvene tomorrow."

Broadcasts from both Peking and Tokyo Friday stressed that the truce talks have reached a critical stage.

CAN'T LOCATE SHIP AND MEN LOST IN OCEAN

Seattle, Jan. 11 (AP)—A widening sea-air search for the freighter Pennsylvania and the 45 men who abandoned her wallowing hulk Wednesday was underway today over a large north Pacific area.

Three ships continued to comb the area and seven airplanes were alerted to participate in the second day of searching the windy, surging ocean spot where the men last were heard from.

Canadian and U.S. ships and planes yesterday conducted a day-long cross-search of the region 465 miles northwest of Vancouver Island where the broken and water-logged freighter last reported being in difficulty.

They found nothing, not even a scrap of wreckage, a drifting bit of clothing or a life preserver. Just wind and waves and snow flurries.

Can't Find Trace

The surface search for the four lifeboats from the Pennsylvania kept up all night, as ships' crews maintained a ceaseless vigil, searching the wild swells and troughs with the aid of lights and flares. Airplanes were forced to return to their bases at nightfall.

Cmdr. R. M. Dudley, chief pilot of a coast guard flying boat, returned to Seattle and reported simply: "We didn't see a thing. Not a trace."

He said a storm was still raging and surface swells were so great, his plane would have been torn to pieces had it been forced to sit down.

The flyers said they felt little hope that the 7,800-ton Victory ship was still afloat.

Transit Strike In Baltimore Goes On

Baltimore, Jan. 11 (AP)—Continuation of a transit strike into next week was predicted today, but the nation's sixth largest city experienced little of the paralysis expected from the walkout of 3,200 transit workers.

Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin, after separate meetings with company and union officials, issued a statement in which he said: "We do not look for a settlement during the present week-end."

All street cars, trackless trolleys and buses stopped running at 4 a.m. Thursday when members of the AFL Transit Workers Union walked out in demand of a 24-cent hourly increase.

Despite the completeness of the strike, the paralysis that many feared failed to set in. Thousands of automobiles normally left at home crowded into the downtown area, slowing traffic considerably, but no prolonged jam was reported, even during the rush hours.

HAVERFORD MAT SQUAD MEETS BULLETS HERE

Gettysburg college's wrestlers will make their debut under their new coach, Jack Shainline, Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock when Haverford will be met in the college gymnasium.

Shainline succeeded Clyde Cole who is now serving with the Air Force at Middletown.

The Bullets are far from in good shape for their opening engagement. Don Woods, who is scheduled for the 123-pound event, is a doubtful performer due to an injured ankle while Sam Evangelista, 130, has a torn chest muscle. In the event Evangelista is unable to take part he will be replaced by Bill Stecker, a freshman. No replacement is available for Woods.

Coach Shainline has revealed that Jim Woods, 137-pound Middle Atlantic champion, will be unavailable this year due to a head injury.

Other Entrants
Scheduled to meet Haverford grapplers are: 137, Jim Howard, a freshman; 147, By Wagner; 157, Dick Ugo or John Cagiano; 167, Al the 145-mile front, taking the suit heavyweight, Ronnie Miller, who wrestled for the first time last year when he was a freshman.

Earl Yost, 147, and Al Bernstorf, 157, are ineligible for participation at present.

Last Saturday the Bullet squad journeyed to Annapolis for a practice match and turned in a creditable performance with Hershberger, Spangler, Yost and Bernstorf gaining victories over Navy wrestlers.

The Bullets were co-champions with Lafayette last year in the Middle Atlantic tournament.

Haverford, despite losses to Temple and Delaware, is reported to have a strong team and is expected to provide plenty of opposition for the Bullets.

Hershey To Test Warriors Tonight

Hershey high school's veteran basketball team, rated as second only to Chambersburg in the South Penn circuit, comes here tonight to meet the Gettysburg high dribblers in a league affair.

The Trojans possess plenty of height, speed and experience and if the Warriors hope for victory they will have to give their best from start to finish.

Halting Dick Gaspari, high scoring Trojan forward, will be one of the big tasks for Coach George Forney's squad.

At 6:45 the Warrior reserves will go after their third straight league victory.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

Cincinnati, Jan. 11 (AP)—Tom Galery, the reformed fight promoter and baseball man who is in the television business now, has some rather heated arguments to give the college folks who want to keep football off the TV channels.

Says Tom: "When I started with the Yankees we did about 900,000 (spectators) a season. The next year we had television and went over two million."

You can sell anything—beer, cars and sports.... Galery claims TV makes new fans and maybe he's right.

And as for hurting the little fellows in sports, he explodes: "You never heard of them throwing out a Yale-Harvard game because it took spectators away from Trinity and Wesleyan, did you?"

On the other hand, he heard two small college guys discussing the same subject.... Said one: "If they all allow unlimited television, in three years the networks will be dictating everything we do."

Replied two: "In three years there won't be any football. That stuff hurts us, but it will kill high school football."

The Bullets, who now sport a 5-1 season record, are expected to give a good account of themselves. Overcoming the big Bucknell lead to eventually emerge victorious here Wednesday evening clearly indicated the fighting qualities of Coach Hen Bream's outfit which should prove invaluable in future games.

No change is anticipated in the Bullet starting lineup which will probably include Bob Pizolati, Mike Resanovich, George Hare, Tom Ketterman, Mark Watson or Gene Coder.

REALLY TRAVELING

Waite Hoyt, the pitcher turned broadcaster, came up with this one when he MC'd the college baseball coaches banquet last night....

When Charley Devens came to the Yankees fresh from Harvard, his luggage was covered with hotel stickers as evidence of his world-wide travels during summer vacations.... Devens was put in to room with Lefty Gomez, whose homespun humor provided a perfect contrast to Charley's hasty pudding club style....

Noting the stickers, Lefty solemnly asked the learned rookie: "Charley, have you ever been in Newark?"

Devens, thinking it over, replied: "Newark, New Jersey? No, I don't believe I have."

"Well then," gassed Gomez, "it will be all new to you, won't it?"

SPORTS BEFORE YOUR EYES

Looks like Ward Cuff, the old Giant footballer, is in line for the coaching job at Lafayette, which has been a good stepping stone to bigger positions.

Except for the first two rounds, it was the South American's fight all the way. Since turning professional, Bascom had won 13 consecutive fights. Referee Benny Kessler gave the bout to Brion 55-45. Judge Fred Connell had it 53-47 and Judge Howard Hess scored it 52-48. Outweighing the East St. Louis, Ill., negro by almost 18 pounds, Brion simply overpowered Bascom.

Camden, N. J., Jan. 11 (AP) — Joe Walcott says he has been offered a $250,000 guarantee and 25 per cent of the television rights to defend his heavyweight boxing title against Harry Matthews this summer at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

In a radio broadcast Wednesday, Walcott disclosed the offer was made by a "great female movie star."

He declined to name her.

Matthews recently turned down a chance to fight Joey Maxim for the light heavyweight title. In Seattle, Matthews' manager said he had not been approached about a fight with Walcott.

Pittsburgh, Jan. 11 (AP) — Joe L. Brown, son of movie star Joe E. Brown, is the new president of the New Orleans Pelicans baseball club of the Southern Association.

Brown was named yesterday by the Pittsburgh Pirates. The Pelicans club is a member of the Pirate farm system. Brown was business manager of the Pelicans last year.

Wagner Cagers, With 8-Game Win Streak, Here Saturday

Currently boasting an eight-game winning streak, the fast-moving Wagner college cagers of Staten Island, N. Y., will meet the Gettysburg college courtmen here Saturday evening at 8 o'clock.

The Seahawks, who lost a 75-71 contest here last year, meet Dickinson college at Carlisle tonight.

Wagner got off to a rough start this season and dropped games to Hofstra, Franklin and Marshall, Manhattan and St. John's while winning from Stevens.

Since losing to St. John's on December 12 the Seahawks have been unbeaten and have victories over the following: Upsala, Springfield, Cooper Union, Kings Point and Pratt. On December 27, 28, 29, Wagner took part in the Hofstra Invitational tournament at Hempstead, Long Island, and captured the tourney honors with victories over the Cortland Teachers, Trinity and Alfred.

Bosley Big Threat

Sparkplug for Wagner this season has been Sonny Bosley, 6-3, who was chosen as the most valuable player in the Hofstra tourney. He has been averaging 19.6 points per game.

Tallest player on the Seahawk squad is a freshman, Charley Hareus, who is 6-6 and an expert on rebounds. Other outstanding performers have been Don Gromisch, 6-4, Al Frolander, 5-11, and Larry Sweeney, 6-1.

The Bullets, who now sport a 5-1 season record, are expected to give a good account of themselves. Overcoming the big Bucknell lead to eventually emerge victorious here Wednesday evening clearly indicated the fighting qualities of Coach Hen Bream's outfit which should prove invaluable in future games.

No change is anticipated in the Bullet starting lineup which will probably include Bob Pizolati, Mike Resanovich, George Hare, Tom Ketterman, Mark Watson or Gene Coder.

G-BURG JUNIOR HI WINS PAIR

All participants for the Gettysburg junior high varsity basketball squad broke into the scoring as the local team trounced Biglerville 49-17 Thursday evening at Biglerville for its second win in three starts.

Coach Rogers Herr's outfit took the lead at the start and was never in danger. At half time the score was 25-10.

The local reserves won their first victory after two defeats by taking the preliminary game 29-7.

Gettysburg will meet Waynesboro junior high here next Wednesday and Biglerville is host to Waynesboro on Thursday.

HENRY, FORMER GRIDIRON ACE, REFUSES HELP

Washington, Pa., Jan. 11 (AP)—Pete (Fats) Henry, whose gridiron feats kept the sports world buzzing early in the century, smiled gaily today after a recent scrimmage with diabetes as he told his friends he can make his own way.

Henry, whose line play on Washington and Jefferson college elevens in 1915-16-17 and 19 won him all-time all-America fame, told friends he does not want them raising funds or holding testimonials for him.

"I don't want anything like that. Friendship is enough for me," he added.

"I'm pretty well fixed. We own our house and rent the upstairs apartment. All our bills are paid and though I may be down I'm far from out."

The big man, who directs athletic programs at his alma mater, nearly lost his left leg during a recent attack. His right leg was amputated in 1949.

Fighting Way Back

His last trip to the hospital is one in a long series of bouts with diabetes which has plagued him for years. He was released from the hospital on Christmas eve.

But true to the fighting spirit that won him fame as an athlete, Henry is fighting his way back.

"I'll be up and around as soon as things clear up," he predicts.

Henry likes to recall the days when he was making big holes in opponents' lines and when people stopped by to see him at his Washington home.

Today's Talk

By GEORGE MATTHEW ADAMS
THE WEATHER

The first, and the most widely read item in every newspaper is its report on the weather. This weather of ours has almost become a religion in the conduct of our lives and affairs. Old Dr. Samuel Johnson gave vent to this thought: "No sensible man really cares whether the weather is fine or not. No civilized man is out in it for long."

The learned doctor, however, was an indoor man, mostly, so that his idea should not be taken too much to heart. There is no doubt but what most of us are influenced in our daily work more by the turn of the weather than from almost anything else. When the sun shines and the weather is pleasant we work and feel better and we give out more cheer to others.

One Texan, who was interviewed some years ago, on his 103rd birthday, was asked to what he attributed his long life, and after thinking for a moment, he replied: "I can think of nothing important unless it might be that I never worried about the weather!" Perhaps he said something that ought to be valuable for any of us to bear in mind.

Thoreau looked upon every day as a "fine day" so that it didn't make any difference to him whether it rained or shined. He lived in it, and it was full of hope and opportunity, and he looked upon a day as "too inexpressibly important to be mentioned lightly."

The storm passes, and the rain ceases, and the heavens open up, shedding light and warmth all about the earth. There are far more good days than what people term as bad. But no day is bad that has allowed any of us to contribute to the happiness or welfare of mankind. Our rainy days are blessings that are essential to the well-being of us all. Without them there would be little freshness to the earth.

None of us can compete with nature when it comes to the weather. Her wisdom is a universal one, and her benefits are widely distributed so that the greatest number of people and lands reap the fullest value. We easily forget yesterday's storm or rain in today's beautiful sunshine. And that is life, too. Weeping is for but a night, but "joy cometh in the morning!"

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Waste."

Just Folks

WINDOW WASHER
The fellow with the ladder and the water in the pail
And the brush and safety buckles is important to us all.

And to see him at my window
he's a man I gladly hail.
But I worry for his safety. I am afraid that he may fall.

I don't suppose I'd know him if he passed me on the street.
I don't know where he's living;
to his home I've never been.
If he has a wife and children it may be we'll never meet.
It's only at my window that his face I've ever seen.

I'm a timid sort of creature and the risk I wouldn't run
When another boldly takes it is a danger that I share
So I promptly leave the office
'til he gets his labor done.
For my nerves are all a-tremble while the window washer's there.

MURRAY SAYS RISE IN STEEL "UNNECESSARY"

Washington, Jan. 11 (AP)—CIO President Philip Murray said today steel makers' profits are so great the companies can afford his union's pay and other demands "without raising prices at all."

Murray was called as the opening witness before a Wage Stabilization board (WSB) panel in hearings on a government-suggested solution to the big steel labor dispute.

The chief of the CIO and its steel workers union said in a 46-page prepared statement that the steel industry is enjoying vast profits and can "easily grant" his unions demands without boosting steel prices.

Strike Postponed

The steel manufacturers have contended a price increase would be necessary to offset any wage rise.

Murray said that while steel workers' earnings have risen 60 percent since 1945, the industry's net profits after taxes went up 219 percent.

The million-member union is asking an average 18 1/2 cents hourly pay boost and other concessions. It postponed a scheduled New Year's Day strike at President Truman's request to let the WSB decide the case.

"The wage increase and other monetary improvements we seek are justifiable," Murray said, "whether one regards them from the viewpoint of the workers, the companies or the entire national community. The members of the United Steelworkers of America have suffered much from profiteering-inspired inflation."

WINTER SUITS TESTED IN KOREA

Eastern Front, Korea, Jan. 11 (AP)—Five Americans walking around in this frozen front say "It's like the climate of Florida, warm and humid." They are wearing experimental winter suits.

They sit in snowbanks, roll in the snow, enjoy snowball fights and enthuse about a drop in temperature to near zero.

The suit is made of polyvinyl-chloride, a plastic resembling foam rubber. It's made in two pieces—jacket and trousers. It costs about $25 compared to about $200 for standard military clothing for freezing temperatures. It has numerous nipples on the inner side to give air space between the skin and the suit. It covers a man like a thermos bottle.

It is constructed on the vapor barrier principle developed by Dr. Paul Siple of Arlington, Va., and Dr. Henry C. Bazzet of the University of Pennsylvania. The principle is the same as in the Army's new cold weather boot.

A testing team has covered half the 145-mile front, taking the suit on everything from jeep rides to combat patrols.

The vapor (short for vapor barrier) suit allows the wearer to perspire without the former danger that the perspiration would freeze. And the air space between the suit and a man's skin makes the outfit buoyant enough for a man to float in water with 50 pounds of equipment. Siple says he hopes this quality will endear the suit of almen faced with mission over frigid waters.

VA Announces New Insurance Dividend

Washington, Jan. 11 (AP)—Payments averaging about $60 will go out this year to holders of National Service Life Insurance policies.

The Veterans Administration announced yesterday it will start dividing a 200 million dollar dividend in March. This will be the first regular dividend for veterans and servicemen, the VA having paid two special dividends in the past four years.

The VA said it is mailing out a special form which will give a policy holder the choice of receiving cash or put the dividend up as a deposit at 3 percent interest. The deposit would be insurance against possible lapse of a policy or as advance payment on premiums.

Payments will be made after the anniversary date of each policy covering the previous 12 months. The VA said payment, in most instances, will be based on the 1951 rate of 50 cents for each $1,000 of insurance for each month the insurance was in force.

Eligibility will be based on paid premiums on a policy for any three or more months between the 1951 and 1952 dates.

In Spain and in other countries, and a warning that the same thing "might happen here." They were included in the address by the Rev. Francis X. Pefer before the assembled Knights and their guests at the holiday banquet given by the Knights of Columbus in their lodge rooms, center square, Tuesday evening, T. E. Farrell, grand Knight of the local council, acted as toastmaster.

Talks were also given by Father Mark E. Stock and Plus C. Stock.

The committee in charge of the banquet included Allen B. Redding, Andrew H. Ruley, Charles Redding, William Alwine and Charles Dillman. Mr. Farrell was chairman of the committee.

Pickpocket Keeps In Practice In Custody

Chicago, Jan. 11 (AP)—Milkman Richard Bopp, 23, was robbed of two pints of milk while making deliveries in police headquarters building Wednesday.

Bopp discovered the theft after he stepped off an elevator. On the elevator with him were two policemen and a group of prisoners bound for a third-floor bullpen.

The milkman went to the bullpen and complained to police. They noted telltale bulges in the size 12 rubber boots of one prisoner, a man who had been arrested as a pickpocket. The cops found an unopened carton of milk in each boot.

RETAIL PRICES ON FOOD LOWER

(By The Associated Press)
Retail prices of butter, eggs, citrus fruits, celery and lettuce were lower in most stores this week.

Chickens cost a little more in many places, but changes in meat and poultry items generally were irregular and well scattered.

Lighter shipments of snap beans, brussels sprouts, carrots, cucumbers, onions, peppers and squash made them a trifle more expensive at retail.

Butter and egg prices varied widely from store to store and city to city, as is frequently the case in an unsettled market. Declines in butter at retail ranged from one to six cents a pound, and top grade eggs were off as much as eight cents in some places—with the possibility of even further cuts as storekeepers put both items high on their lists of advertised week-end specials to attract shoppers.

The declines in both items were attributed chiefly to increasing production, and to consumer resistance against the price levels of recent weeks.

Butter climbed from around 67 cents a pound at New York to mid-September to nearly $1 a pound last week before prices turned downward. Some grocery stores were even above $1. The upturn was partly seasonal, partly a result of storms which slowed milk collection, and partly because some dairies found larger profits in selling fluid milk or channelling milk into cheese production rather than butter.

Eggs have been easing sporadically ever since shortly after Thanksgiving Day, and now are slightly below the year-ago levels in many places. Production is expected to be about 4 percent larger through next spring than in the like months last year, so no sharp upturn price-wise is anticipated.

QUESTION UP ON SOUTHEAST ASIA

Washington, Jan. 11 (AP)—The question of whether the United States should underwrite the security of southeast Asia—perhaps by sending in troops if necessary—confronted the administration today in the wake of the Truman-Churchill conference.

The issue of what Western powers and particularly the United States should do about possible Communist aggression in that area is high on the list of problems under discussion between Secretary of State Acheson and British Foreign Secretary Eden, it was learned.

Today it also will be taken up by military chiefs of the United States, Britain and France in a three-power conference opening at the Pentagon.

A communique issued by the President and Prime Minister Wednesday, about the time Churchill left on a trip to New York and Ottawa, reported that a "broad harmony of view" had developed on the "many grave problems affecting our two countries in the Far East."

This was applied specifically to Communist China with the statement that "we recognize that the over-riding need to counter the Communist threat in that area transcends such divergencies as there are in our policies toward China." Britain recognizes the Communist regime while the United States continues relations with the Nationalist government of Formosa.

Pottsville, Pa., Jan. 11 (AP)—Judge Charles Staudenmeier Wednesday sentenced Elmer Fritzinger, 21, of Walnutport R. 1, to an additional year for escaping from the Schuylkill county jail New Year's Day.

Fritzinger, who was serving a two to four year sentence for burglary, was recaptured 24 hours after he scaled a 20-foot wall with the help of a plank. Fritzinger, who also was assessed a nominal fine of $1 and costs, was working on the night boiler room shift at the time of his escape.

Harrisburg, Jan. 11 (AP)—A meeting of the General State Authority called Thursday to discuss a 25 million dollar flood control program has been postponed to an indefinite date. A GSA spokesman said Gov. John S. Fine was detained by an unexpected engagement in Philadelphia, forcing the postponement. Fine is chairman of the authority.

The governor went to Philadelphia to attend the installation of the Most Rev. John F. O'Hara as archbishop of Philadelphia.

Mexico at present has 23 states and three territories.

TRY TO JUSTIFY WAGE INCREASE

Washington, Jan. 11 (AP)—The CIO steelworkers fired facts and figures at the Wage Stabilization board today in an attempt to justify their 18 1/2 cent wage boost and other demands.

Arthur J. Goldberg, general counsel for the one million-man union, said yesterday the union will not sign any new contract which does not contain a union shop agreement.

He listed 27 steel companies which he said already have union shop clauses in their contracts with the steelworkers. And he blasted the major companies which don't, for a statement they made yesterday implying a union shop would "impair efficiency." The union shop requires all employees to become members of the union within a certain period, usually 30 days after they start work.

Goldberg said elections held under the Taft-Hartley act "disclosed an overwhelming preference on the part of the workers for the union shop."

The basic union demand in the present case involves 18 1/2 cents in average hourly wage boosts. The companies contend they can't pay any increase without a steel price increase. And they say that would be inflationary. Steelworkers' earnings today are running around an average of $1.92 an hour.

Washington, Jan. 11 (AP)—Senators Martin and Duff of Pennsylvania have received more than 100,000 communications protesting the appointment of a U. S. ambassador to the Vatican. And additional protests are pouring into the two offices at a rate of more than 2,000 a day.

Aides of the two Keystone state Republicans said it is the heaviest mail they have experienced. Only "a handful" of communications have been favorable, they report.

Harrisburg, Jan. 11 (AP)—The state Milk Control Commission has dropped plans to alter the system under which it determines the price of milk for housewives and producers.

At present, prices are determined by a seasonal pricing structure and by holding hearings at which the case for and against changing the current milk price is presented.

AIR OFFICIAL—Edwin V. Huggins, 44, Mapewood, N. J., executive, was named by President Truman in a recess appointment as Assistant Secretary of the United States Air Force.

FOUR WIVES, NO JOB

Mexico City, Jan. 11 (AP)—Chatting at the market, two Mexican wives compared notes on their husbands and found they were both married to the same man. They complained to police.

The police found the wives had elarned only half of the story. The husband, Rafael Estrada Huerta, was charged yesterday with taking on four wives in 11 months.

He hasn't got a job either.

LEAP YEAR JOB

Winnipeg, Ont., Jan. 11 (AP)—Mary Jackson Taylor and Henry Charles Reynolds admitted their marriage this week was a leap-year affair. Yes, said the blushing, timid bride of 73, she had "popped the question" to the groom, 74.

GROWING TEETH AT 87

Winchester, Va., Jan. 11 (AP)—J. R. Costello, 87, doesn't believe in going to a dentist to buy new teeth—he grows his own. In his sixty-third year of married life, Costello has just finished cutting the seventh tooth in this third set. Dentists are mystified.

The most recent bird to become extinct is the heath hen, once very common in the North Atlantic states.

One hundred percent attendance was attained at the first January meeting of the Littlestown Homemakers club on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Melvin B. Wehler, Littlestown R. 1. A covered dish supper was held at 6:30 o'clock and a white elephant party was the social feature of the evening. Miss Mary Jane Mickey, Adams county home economics extension representative, was present. It was decided to hold the next meeting of the club at the home of Mrs. Paul E. King, Littlestown R. 1, on Tuesday, January 29, 7:30 p.m. The project of discussion at the coming meeting will be "Oven Meals."

Chicago, Jan. 11 (AP)—The Chicago Association of Commerce hit the jackpot Wednesday in its scrap drive—seven old steam locomotives, with tenders and a 150-ton coal chute.

The association's biggest single haul in its scrap drive came from the Belt Railway company. The locomotives range from 24 to 38 years old and have been replaced by diesel-powered units. The old iron horses will add about 1,000 tons to the association's scrap collection.

CARVER: A birthday tribute to our dear mother, Mary, on her birthday, January 11; and who passed away Feb. 21, 1946.

"Oh, Mother, Dear, when you were here
We had your tender care;
And none can ever take your place,
Or fill that vacant chair.
You were the sunlight of our home
Till God took you away;
But we never will forget you,
Till we meet in heaven,
And see your smiling face, again."
Loving Daughters and Son,
Irene, Maybelle, Anna, Lili,
and Don Carver.

JET FIGHTERS AND TANKS ARE BEING RUSHED

By ELTON C. FAY
(Associated Press Military Affairs Reporter)

Washington, Jan. 11 (AP) — The United States is breaking bottlenecks in jet fighter and tank production but Defense Secretary Robert Lovett estimates it will take a long time to catch up on the schedules set for big scale deliveries.

The defense chief expressed this view in testifying before the Senate Armed Services committee at a closed door session yesterday.

Lovett's statement, taken together with unofficial estimates of American and Russian production, pointed up President Truman's report to Congress on Wednesday that the Soviet Union "is still producing more war planes than the free nations."

Reds Rush Production
The most recent unofficial estimate here is that Russia is producing about 15,000 planes a year. Of these about 12,000 are first line combat aircraft with about 70 per cent of them jet fighters.

Against this is the recent estimate of Adm. Dewitt C. Ramsey (Ret.), president of Aircraft Industries Association, that total production of American planes of all types may reach about 1,500 per month by late 1952. That would be at the rate of 18,000 a year and some industry men believe this figure may be a little too high.

The industry blames the lag in plane production first on what it says is the attempt to impose a multi-billion dollar armament program on a booming civilian economy. Industry leaders say the primary reason for lagging production has been a shortage of engines and component parts traced to scarcities of machine tools and alloy metals needed in jet engine manufacture.

The army is producing an undisclosed number of light, medium and heavy tanks. But it has run into production troubles in at least one type, the T-41 light. It had accepted, up to a month ago, about one-third of the light tanks which had been completed. The others were being held back until changes could be made in the mechanism which turns the tank turret.

1,800 UNKNOWN YANK SOLDIERS FOUND IN KOREA

Tokyo, Jan. 11 (AP)—Korean battlefields have given up bodies of 1,800 American "unknown soldiers."

Today they lie in army mausoleums on Kyushu, southern Japanese island.

Each day a few are identified—from birthmarks, tattoos, fingerprints, dental work, old fractures.

Some of the unidentified dead are carried on war lists as missing. The Defense Department has listed about 11,000 missing in the Korean war. The Communists have listed 3,196 Americans as prisoners. They said 570 other Americans died after capture.

Others may be listed as killed in action. The military accepts the word of two or more witnesses as verification of death even though the body may not be recovered immediately.

All Bodies Checked
Maj. Robert J. Beauchamp, chief of the Far East command Quartermaster's Memorial division, said today there was "no way in the world to estimate the percentage of unknowns that would be on the missing in action list."

At Camp Kokura on Kyushu the most modern scientific detection methods are used to link each body with a name.

The bodies of all Americans killed in battle—not just the unknowns—are sent from Korea to Camp Kokura for recheck and positive identification before they are returned to the United States for burial.

The "unknowns" remain at Kokura.

The identification effort embraces the work of chemists, X-ray technicians, morticians, doctors, dentists, fingerprint experts, anthropologists and clerks.

The process is so thorough that a serviceman's "dog tag" is not accepted as conclusive proof except where the body is recovered immediately and unit officers swear to identification.

SHOOTSELF TO BEAT COPS

Auburn, N. Y., Jan. 11 (AP) — A young desperado lay under armed guard in a hospital today after trying to kill himself while on trial for the slaying of a woman and 100 policemen begged him to surrender.

The 24-year-old ex-convict, known as Daniel E. Walker, Jr., was reported in serious condition with a bullet wound in the stomach.

Jacob Guzik Is Freed Of Contempt

Washington, Jan. 11 (AP) — The Senate, which wanted to put him in jail, has lost to Jacob (Greasy Thumb) Guzik, who didn't want to go.

"Greasy Thumb," veteran Chicago mobster, was acquitted by U. S. District Judge Edward A. Tamm late yesterday of charges growing out of his refusal to answer questions of the Senate Crime Investigating committee.

Guzik's attitude distressed the committee. It recommended he be cited for contempt of Congress. The Senate went along with the recommendation. So did a federal grand jury, which returned a five-count indictment.

But Judge Tamm, high official of the FBI before he went on the bench, ruled after listening to day-long arguments that Guzik was within his legal rights.

SEE COURT TEST ON SALES OF REAL ESTATE

Harrisburg, Jan. 11 (AP)—A court test may be necessary to determine whether the buyer or seller must pay Pennsylvania's new one percent real estate transfer tax. The state Revenue department said today the law is not clear.

The new law, which goes into effect February 1, will produce an estimated $24 million in additional state revenue during the next two years. It is part of the 1951 Legislature's 133 million dollar "patchwork" tax program.

Until the matter of who must pay the tax is settled, the Revenue department said it will get around the question by requiring county recorders of deeds to demand payment of the tax from whom ever presents property deeds for recording.

Recorders Are Collectors

A total of about 198,000 properties exchanged hands in Pennsylvania last year, according to the state Tax Equalization board. It said this is the average property turnover each year.

County recorders of deeds have been designated by the Revenue department as the official collection agents for the tax. They will be allowed to retain an amount equal to one-half of one percent of the total value of property they handle annually.

No real estate transaction will be recorded unless the papers contain state tax stamps showing the value of the property. The department said it is printing stamps ranging from one cent up to $1,000 for issuance to the county recorders of deeds.

"Sales Tax On Real Estate"
Meanwhile, the Pennsylvania Realtors' association urged all property owners selling real estate to file the transfers before February 1 to escape what it termed "a sales tax on real estate."

"The realty transfer tax is really a sales tax on real estate," declared Glanville A. Carmalt, of Brookville, association president.

Carmalt contended that the new law requires the levy to be paid by the seller. He added, however, there is nothing in the statute that would exclude an agreement between the seller and the purchaser to have the latter pay the tax.

There are only three exceptions to the tax. They include transfers between husband and wife, transfers between a parent and child, and leases. "This means," Carmalt asserted, "that charitable institutions, municipalities or anyone holding real estate property with the exception of the above, must pay the tax."

Will Not Oppose Martin For Senate

Harrisburg, Jan. 11 (AP)—Auditor General Weldon B. Heyburn said today he would remove himself as a possible candidate for U. S. senator for recheck and positive identification before they are returned to the United States for burial.

The "unknowns" remain at Kokura.

The identification effort embraces the work of chemists, X-ray technicians, morticians, doctors, dentists, fingerprint experts, anthropologists and clerks.

PLAN SERVICE AWARD BANQUET

The Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce will hold a Distinguished Service Award banquet sometime this month, according to plans made by the Jaycees at their first January meeting on Monday evening at Schottie's hotel, with the president, Donald Z. Mann, presiding. The committee in charge of arrangements for the banquet consists of Mr. Mann, J. Robert Sell, Samuel Snyder and L. Robert Snyder. The civic, social and fraternal organizations of the community are being contacted and are being asked to suggest the name of an individual who has done outstanding work and who would be eligible for the award. The person may be male or female, 35 years of age or under.

A meeting of the state Jaycees will be held on Saturday at Hotel Brunswick, Lancaster, according to an announcement made by President Mann. It is planned for at least eight members of the local unit to attend the meeting, and if any other members wish to go to Lancaster, they are asked to contact Mr. Mann or Charles E. Rabenstein, the secretary, and transportation will be arranged. The Jaycees will also participate in a donkey basketball game opposite a team from the local Lions club on Thursday, January 31, at the high school auditorium. The game proceeds will go toward the high school athletic association fund.

Sunday School Lesson

Any trade or profession chosen should be one that contributes to the general good of mankind. A farmer, a carpenter, a merchant — is needed. Jesus had His trade. Paul likewise. There is need for men who render all their time to teaching and preaching Christ's Gospel. But there are abundant opportunities to preach on any job. Men must make a living. But men work with other men to whom they can exemplify what the Gospel means. And there is leisure time. Much can be done with that. A young man entered a seminary expecting to devote his life to the ministry. For certain reasons he left the ministry. But he held to the idea of making his life count on the side of Christianity. He entered business and was successful, but he is better known as a promoter of Christian causes. He produces and sells a necessary commodity, but is mainly a fisher of men.

In a real sense there can be a full-time following of the Christian way of life. Fishing for men can be done on any job, or in any vocation. And there are rewards for such endeavors. There is a thrill in successful fishing as a sport. But there is deep and abiding joy and satisfaction for those who follow the Master as "fishers of men."

"HUNCH HOLE" LED TO RICHES IN WESTERN PA.

Renovo, Pa., Jan. 11 (AP) — Two years ago Wednesday an impoverished farmer drilled a 5,000-foot-deep well in the ground 20 miles northwest of here.

Today, the 50-year-old farmer turned natural gas expert drives around town in a custom-built sedan, which he replaces regularly.

Dorcie Calhoun is the man who might well be termed the Horatio Alger character in this plot.

Drilled On "Hunch"
His good fortune arose out of a "hunch hole" which he drilled. For two years he tried to persuade other persons to give financial aid by purchasing stock in his venture. Few listened and agreed. Those who did received $1,350 for every $100 they invested.

Right now there are 65 producing wells in the Leidy township gas field where Dorcie hit the jackpot that could morning. One well has been measured at a flow of 150 million cubic feet daily, making it the largest in existence.

Dorcie's hunch has given the area a boom town appearance. Countless people mortgaged their homes to speculate when the fever struck.

Other drilling outfits have moved in seeking to tap the rich natural gas in its bed in the layer of Oriskany sands which spreads in five directions throughout the area.

Seven More Years
At present four cross-country pipelines are sucking the gas to distant cities for domestic consumption.

Outside the prospecting investors very few persons besides the land owners have felt the boom. People who owned wilderness camp sites or almost barren farmland have struck it rich in some instances, but there is no income from the sale of gas entering the Clinton county tax coffers.

How long will it last?
Geologists estimate there's enough for seven years. In the meantime the well derricks keep going throughout the region in the search for more of the underground wealth.

Extra Councilman Bows Out Of Picture

Hydettown, Pa., Jan. 11 (AP) — The problem of what to do when three councilmen have been elected and there are only two vacancies has been solved in this Crawford county borough of 500—the candidate who got the most votes just stepped out of the picture.

Even Solicitor Rowland W. Mahany, who doubts as a state senator from the Crawford-Mercer county district, sighed with relief today.

"I wish everything could be settled so easily," Mahany said. "Here we were with three councilmen-elect all ready to be sworn in when someone discovered there were only two vacancies. What to do? Well, the situation has resolved itself. George Streich, the candidate who got the most votes, just gracefully bowed out of the picture."

Streich polled 100 votes at last November's election, which called for election of three councilmen for four-year terms. Don Cochran polled 99 and Glenn Reed 98. It wasn't until the men appeared to be sworn in that it was discovered only two councilmen should have been elected.

in the field to boost General Dwight D. Eisenhower for President. Founding of the organization was announced Wednesday by Mrs. Mary Jane Kosier, of nearby Grantville R. D.

Mrs. Kosier said she will appeal to every mother with a son in the service—such as herself—because "they are the ones who feel he, as President, would insure peace."

Publicity chairman of the Dauphin County Republican Women's club, Mrs. Kosier said she had been planning the organization for some time but waited for a hint from the general that he would accept the GOP nomination.

She said she telephoned the Washington office of Sen. James H. Duff (R.-Pa.), a leading Eisenhower supporter, and received full approval for the club.
